Why the Right TV Matters in 2026

Today’s market is dominated by 4K and Mini-LED panels, AI-driven upscaling, and built-in voice assistants. While prices have fallen and large screens are more affordable, the sheer array of features can still cause buyer paralysis.

Choosing the right TV is about three things:

- Resolution & Panel – Snow-white 4K is the baseline, but Mini-LED brings richer blacks.
- Smart Platform – Pick the ecosystem you already use: Amazon, LG, or something else.
- Connections & Size – Enough HDMI ports for your console, sound bar, and future-proof size.
