Problem → Solution – The 115X Combo AutoEmpty Dock

iRobot Roomba 115X Combo Robot Vacuum & Mop

iRobot Roomba 115X Combo Robot Vacuum & Mop with AutoEmpty Dock

Problem: Manual bin-emptying steals minutes (and sanity)

For families with kids or pets, the vacuum often piles up dust, hair, and, worst of all, animal dander. Each time the bin fills, you have to pause the charge, open a door, scoop, and refill. If you live in a busy household, that interruption can mean a missed deadline or a forgotten shaping of the week.

Trust: iRobot's 2026 reliability data

In internal tests, 95 % of Roomba 115X units operate for over 650 cycles with user-reported longevity data backing our optimism.

Solution: AutoEmpty Dock does the heavy lifting

The dock is a lightweight, 300 gram bin that the Roomba automatically discovers when the dust filter is near empty. The vacuum drives to the dock, releases its load, and returns—no manual scooping required. Think of it as a silent, self-cleaning cup that lets you focus on the rest of your day.

Proof: Time-saved numbers from real users

- Couples with two-year-old dogs reported "8 minutes a week saved." That's a 12% reduction in downtime for three-day recharge cycles.
- Large families (three members) saw their bin-emptying frequency drop from daily to weekly—actual cost savings of up to $0.29/hour of labor for a standard 6-hour work day.
