Today’s robot-vacuum market pits two philosophies against each other. Shark’s AI Ultra line leans on their proprietary AI navigation to map and clean efficiently. iRobot’s Roomba 115X family, meanwhile, emphasizes a “set it and forget it” experience: the AutoEmpty dock reduces the need to empty the bin after every run. [Note: Specific claims regarding lidar vs. optical vSLAM and suction power (Pa) are not substantiated by the provided research data and should be verified or removed.]
