Feature Showdown

Cleaning capability

Both Roomba 115X models are marketed as “Combo” units, meaning they vacuum and mop in a single pass. The Shark AI Ultra focuses solely on vacuuming, relying on a powerful suction system and a self-cleaning brushroll to pick up debris.

Navigation and mapping

The Roomba line uses iRobot’s iAdapt navigation with obstacle detection, while the Shark AI Ultra advertises AI-driven laser mapping that learns your home’s layout and avoids obstacles in real time.

Smart home integration

All three models support Wi-Fi connectivity and can be controlled via their respective smartphone apps (iRobot Home for Roomba, SharkClean for Shark). They also work with voice assistants — Roomba with Alexa and Google Assistant, Shark with Alexa and Google Assistant.

Auto-empty dock

Only the Roomba 115X Combo with AutoEmpty Dock includes a self-emptying base that holds up to 30 days of debris, letting you forget about daily bin emptying. The other two models require manual emptying after each cleaning cycle.

- Best for hands-free convenience: Roomba 115X Combo with AutoEmpty Dock – ideal if you hate emptying the bin and want mopping built-in.
- Best budget combo: Roomba 115X Combo – solid vacuum-and-mop performance at a lower price, perfect for small-to-medium homes.
