Key Decision Factors at a Glance

\n
Suction power, navigation smarts, mopping ability, auto-empty convenience, battery life, smart features, and price determine which model earns a spot in your home.

\n

Suction: Power for Every Floor

\n
At least 2000 Pa clears carpets; 1500 Pa suffices for hard floors. Higher means fewer passes.

\n

Navigation: Map Your Home

\n
LiDAR-based SLAM maps rooms quickly and avoids re-cleaning. Camera-based systems work well in bright light but can struggle in darkness.

\n

Mopping: Light Spills, One-Pass Clean

\n
Vibrating mop pads and adjustable water flow handle light spills. Dual-tank systems keep clean and dirty water separate.

\n

Auto-Empty: Less Maintenance

\n
A dock that sucks debris into a larger bin reduces maintenance to once every 30-60 days.

\n

Battery Life: Coverage Without Interruption

\n
90-120 minutes covers most apartments; larger homes benefit from 150 min+ and auto-resume charging.

\n

Smart Features: Control at Your Fingertips

\n
App scheduling, voice-assistant compatibility (Alexa/Google), virtual walls and room-specific cleaning put you in charge.

\n

Price: Fit Your Budget

\n
Budget models start under $150, mid-tier with mopping and auto-empty around $200-$250, premium picks exceed $300.
